Important Notes: A new Pizza Hut Book Log went home today! A copy of the Unit 3 test score sheet also went home today. Please take a minute to look over. February snack calendar went home today as well!

Reading: Next week we will be continuing with text features, including comparing and contrasting information we can find through them. A main focus of the week will be diagrams.

Spelling: Due to days off this week, we will take the consonant +le test Monday. We will then start learning our new words on Tuesday. Regular list words will be: put, cook, stood, full, wood, July, shook, push, pull, brook, hook, hood (There will be one less day to practice words, but I will give a pretest for the challenge list if any students are interested!)

Math: Next week we will continue with measurement. This week we started new math WIN groups based on mid-year testing data.

Language/Writing: We are starting to write our facts down in our informational animal books. It is a slow process, but students have been working hard to research their facts and organize them. For Language we will start irregular plural nouns.

Social Studies/Science: Due to no school days, we will start our Matter unit next week. This unit is full of hands-on explorations. This week we finished up with our social studies unit on communities and how they are run.

Upcoming Dates:

Feb 4th- We will be celebrating the 100th day of school. Feel free to have your child decorate a t-shirt for the 100th day!

Feb 14th- Valentine's Day- We will be exchanging valentines as a class.

~Students are welcome to bring in a decorated box/container from home to collect valentines in. Otherwise, I will have white paper bags that students can decorate at school if they do not bring a box in from home.

~As part of our celebration that day, we will be doing an ice cream party with third grade! See sign up sheet that went home today!

*Feb 20th- Noon Release

*Feb 21- No School Teacher PD
